

Who do you usually write to?

I usually write to my best friend who lives in another city. We have been friends since our childhood, but we go to college in different cities now.

Do you think people will still write letters in the future?

They might not. Letters are slow, so in this fast-paced world, people think it's more efficient to use phone calls or instant messengers to stay in touch.

Do you prefer to write letters by hand or to use a computer?

Writing on a piece of paper is preferred, because I used to practice Chinese calligraphy and I really enjoy the process of writing Chinese characters.

Do you write many letters?

Yes, I think writing letters is the best way to keep a good relationship between people. So, I write to my closest friends on a regular basis.

How do you feel when you receive a letter?

I would feel really excited. I don't receive many letters nowadays, so a letter is like a surprise to me. I feel thrilled when I receive postcards from my best friends.

Is it hard to think of what to write?

Not really. I never run out of things to write about. There are so many things going on in our lives these days. Whether they are good or bad, I write them in the letters to my best friend.

What do you usually write about?

Sometimes, I just note down a few thoughts while watching a movie or reading my favourite books. I may easily get inspired. I like to share these with my friends.