

Describe an interesting person you would like to meet

You should say:

Who this person is

What this person does

Why you think this person is interesting

And what you want to do with this person

One day, I would like to meet my half-brother, Chris. My mother had him with her first husband. Chris was in high school when his father died. My mother remarried when Chris was in college.

I've heard a lot of stories about him from my mother, so I'm very curious. He lives in America with his family. Mother said Chris works as a marine biologist.

I think that it's a very interesting job. Part of his job is to study all kinds of sea animals. What's most interesting, to me, is that he works with dolphins and whales. He tracks and tags them to keep track of where they usually go. Sometimes, he also works with sharks.

I want to visit America to see him. I would go to see a variety of interesting marine species. Maybe he can take me to swim with dolphins, or to scuba dive. I also want to meet his family as I've only seen them in pictures.

Do you have many friends in your community?

I don't have many friends in my community. I live in a remote area, so all my friends are away because it's more convenient for them to live in a more populated area. I don't mind, they're not far away so I can visit them.

其他观点

Yes, I do have many friends in my community. I'd find it very hard to live away from my friends. It's nice when you can get to a friend's place without spending a long time on the road. I enjoy having my friends close by.

Do people feel safe in China?

Yes, I believe that most people would feel safe in China. It has a large population and cities are crowded. I think this is an advantage, for example, if something were to happen to people in China, they know that they could ask anyone around for help.

其他观点

I believe that whether people feeling safe in China depends on the situation. For example, if I were walking down the street alone at night, I wouldn't feel safe no matter what country I'm in. It's more a matter of context rather than the country itself.

How do technology help on the relationship between people?

I believe technology makes it easier to stay in touch with the people I know. For example, without technology, I would need to mail letters to my friends that live far away. I like that technology takes away this type of inconvenience.

其他观点

In my opinion, technology is very handy to organize activities between friends or family. For example, if there's going to be a reunion in my family, we're going to be exchanging emails to decide details like when it's happening. I find it easier than calling everyone multiple times.
