

How often do you meet your family?

My family and I don't live in the same city, so I can only visit them during public holidays like spring festival and national day holiday. So, I'd say meet them twice each year.

Do you want to live with your family in the future?

Not really, I want to live on my own for a couple of years before having my own family. This is because my parents have different lifestyles from mine, they are early birds and they go to bed before 10 PM, and they expect me to do so. I don't want to get in a fight with them constantly over trivial things like this.

Are you close to all of your family members?

I only talk to a few of them regularly. The ones barely talk to are those who either live far away or I don't know much about. So, I usually choose to be with the ones that feel connected with.

How has your family influenced you?

My parents are self-disciplined people. So, what they do or say really has a big influence on me. For example, they always say thanks to the people offering service at public places. And they are friendly to neighbors. When they have cooked something nice, they are willing to share the food with others. All these deeds have shaped who am today.
